Dear Jeongseon Hong,

We confirm receipt of your message dated 2 March 2019.

Based on the information you provided us, please be informed that the International Criminal Court (ICC) can only be called to act by the Prosecutor, by a State or by the Security Council of the United Nations and is only competent to deal with the following crimes as defined in the Rome Statute: crimes of genocide, crimes against humanity, war crimes and crimes of aggression^[1], committed after 1 July 2002 at the earliest and by either a citizen of its presently 123 States Parties, or for such crimes committed on the territory of one of these States Parties.^[2]

In light of the limited scope of the jurisdiction of the ICC as outlined above, we regret to inform you that your case falls outside the jurisdiction of the ICC and therefore cannot be transmitted to the ICC Judges.

The document titled "Understanding the International Criminal Court", which is enclosed, further describes the jurisdiction of the ICC including the opportunity for persons to send information on crimes within the jurisdiction of the ICC to the Prosecutor.

Should you wish to receive more information about the ICC, we invite you to consult our Website at the following address: <http://www.icc-cpi.int/Pages/Main.aspx>

Yours sincerely,

VPRS

[1] The crime of aggression is within the ICC's jurisdiction only from 17 July 2018 onwards.

[1] In addition, the UN Security Council has the power to refer a situation of a non-State Party to the ICC for investigation pursuant to article 13(b) of the Rome Statute. Subject: RE: victim application form

Hello, thank you for your guiding reply.

The victim application form that I am requiring is for my own case originated from S. Korea about 30 years ago.

In 2017, I applied for asylum in Swiss, and the Swiss authority refused after 1 month detention at their airport as the whole representative of Schengen area, which means that ...

I cannot contact the legal system of S. Korea.

This is a long term massive-scale national criminal which will affect the whole humanity evil.

I need a victim application form for this reason. If you refuse to help me, I will try another till I be free again as when I was born.

Thanks.

Jeongseon Hong.

Dear Jeongseon Hong,

Thank you for your message.

Please specify for which country situation and, if applicable, which case before the ICC you are requesting the victim application form for participation in the proceedings. We will then be in a position to provide you with the relevant information.

Kind regards,

VPRS
